Hi, I'm Austin Grove and I am a frequent visitor and user of dating sites for the past few years. This experience gave me an insight about the online dating site business which raised a lot of questions about the needs of the end-users as well as the website itself. Through careful research and working with companies providing dating site services, I have discovered quite a lot of things on how to successfully promote and manage websites. By coordinating dating sites and site services, the yield of production increases and the business goal becomes easier to grasp. As the industry grows, more issues come into light and it is my job to develop effective solutions that answers to these problems.

Hello everyone ! I was happy when I found this forum while searching for one from pure frustration with match /dating sites .. I'm of the opinion that if Pilots were allowed to decide to simply 'tailor' their idea of what the flight manual of the plane they flew actually was saying ... as date site members simply have done agenda-wise, we'd see 747's barrel rolling over cities or being rowed across rivers ... For those old enough, matchsite members seem to perfectly duplicate the 'dreaded' 'hippies' and non conformists we were unhappy with in the 70's .... but it is nice to be able to take a break and read both positive as well as negative opinions of fellow 'seekers' ...

I am a mature and selfconfident man. I have my own buiseness, I love yachts,I also have one for myself. I love life! I am happily married,so feel lucky about my private life.

But not a lot of people do have loving woman at home and they are sick of searching in bars for one-night adventure and of the dating sites, where you can't really know if a person you are talking to is sincere or not.

So I created a project, that will connect all people who are seeking love from all over the world. Project, where you will meet only those people who are really searching for soulmate.

Every 3 months we choose a place in the world and travel there together to know each other better!

In October we have the first trip in Greece. We took yachts to travel from one island of Saronic Gulf to another. Isn't it a good idea? What do you think?

It sounds interesting but can you please share some more details how it works?

From my understanding, first people get connected online and then have a chance to meet up as a group, is that correct?

Hello, Dating Expert!

Thank you, I am happy to be here.

You are really close to my idea. Let me give you more details of what is going to happen.

I want to connect people, who are looking for love. I see it as a week-long vacation at any place of the world.

We are already planning our first trip to Greece on the 3d of October.

We will have a lot of fun sailing on yachts thru the Saronic Gulf. There are 10 people on each yacht getting to know each other, making breakfasts and helping with everyday stuff. I think it is a great chance to get closer and really find out a lot about your neighbour.

In my point of view such a situation gives you more information about a person in a couple of days than chatting for years!

Don't you agree?

We have a lot of activities, I hired a DJ, photographer and a relations coach to support us all the week long in our adventure.

I really think those people are needed to feel more relaxed and comfortable.

I have already done the website. At the moment, you can see there people, who want to join the travel and find their love.

Those people are participants of the contest,at the ench of it 10 people will join the vacation for free.

Why did I decide to make a contest,you will ask me?

I believe, that if they share their true interest in the project in their social media more people will get informed anout our project.

So it is a kind of adverticement!

It is my first expirience with the website,so I still have a lot to do there.

I want people to see not only the people,who are on the contest,but you have already bought a trip,or going to join it.

So, you can -choose and help a participant to win a trip

- you can be a participant yourcelf
- you can guarantee your place with buying a trip
- you can give a trip to someone you like as a present

What do you think of all of it?

I am really looking forward for your answer

Thanks, Andrey
