If you want a woman's phone number, be a man and ask for it. Don't pull that weenie-move of handing us your business card and expecting us to make the first move. Don't wait a week to call. We know you're playing it cool and it irritates us. Two or three days is plenty of time to wait. never pressure a woman for sex. Really. Especially on the first date. Don't wait until the last minute to ask for a date. Give us a chance to look forward to it.

Subject: Why Men Leave - (Common Reasons Why Men Leave Relationships)

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

There are many different reasons why men leave relationships or refuse to settle down with the woman they are with. Its important for women to take a good look at these reasons. To their surprise and delight, they will discover that most of the reasons why men leave have nothing to do with them. Some men cling to the ghost of past relationships, idealizing an old love and deciding they'll never find a person like that again. It feels safer to hold onto the past than risk failure with someone who is available today.

These men prefer to dwell in a memory than to face the reality of present day life. For some, this memory goes back to their mothers. No woman can live up to mom, or to any other woman they idealize. They begin to imagine that these other women were perfect and gave them unconditional love. Whatever their present girlfriend does is compared with that. No woman can win over an idealized memory. These men are living in dreams.

Other men leave seeking excitement and challenge. Being with someone who loves them becomes boring and flat. After years of dating beautiful women who adored him but for whom he felt little, Frederick, a handsome, articulate architect, in his late thirties, finally fell in love. It was a tumultuous situation, however.

"I was in love with Fern for three years, he said. "But I left her three times and each time she came back, wanting me again. No other woman had done that before. Fern was very neurotic. I guess thats what attracted me.

Some men find the lack of stability in a woman to be challenging, exciting and erotic. The unpredictability creates a situation where there is a constant sense of danger and threat of loss. This keeps these men constantly on the alert, so things never become routine. Excitement is confused with passion. There is a sense that, because of the turmoil, they are finally alive. After awhile it usually becomes too much. "I finally left Fern and never went back, Frederick said. It became too exhausting in the long run.

When men are attracted to neurotic women, it is interesting to note that these men are often attracting a partner who is expressing what he is also going through inside. She may be acting out what he is feeling and not able to express. When he finally becomes angry with the woman, he is really angry with himself. What we cannot accept in another is always something we haven't been able to accept in ourselves.

Other stresses also cause men to leave relationships. When a man is unhappy at his job, or when he feels pressured to commit, before he is ready, old dreams that haven't been fulfilled will come up to haunt him. He then will begin to feel that this is the time to live out these dreams. These men often feel justified in abruptly leave unsatisfying relationships in search of their fantasies and dreams.

When Renee, handsome, strong, the successful owner of a well know beauty salon left for a new woman he said, No one leaves if they're happy. After awhile you just begin to feel time is running out and you get tired of the bad stuff. You feel you don't need it anymore. You paid your dues. You're tired."

When asked why he felt the attraction to a different woman, he said, Part of it is just plain beauty. But also she was much younger. I like that. A young woman looks up to a guy because he's older and can do all these things for her, and he adores her because she's young, pretty and makes him look good and feel good and proud."

Implicit in this is a deep need men have to be looked up to, valued, respected and recognized, not only by his peers, but by the woman he's with. Especially at a time in life when a man's sense of himself is wavering, it is extremely uplifting to have a woman who looks up to him and what he has achieved. Unfortunately, at this point, some wives of long standing can only see their mans deficits. If they then remind him of his failings constantly, it's often more than his ego can bear.

Though there are many more factors contributing to men leaving relationships, a common theme appears through all of them. The men are not necessarily responding to the woman they are leaving, but to their own inner needs, conflicts and dreams. Often they experience the woman in their lives simply as a part of their own sense of self. It is not the woman herself who necessarily causes the man to leave, but the man's feelings about himself, his own inner fantasy and quest.

Hi Jessica, you say that now but it's not that easy.
A man can not just walk up to a woman and ask her for her number.

He needs to read the signs first and it also depends on the location. Asking for a woman's number in a club is different from asking for a number at work.

The reason for this is, if it all goes wrong at work you could get the sack were as in a club you could walk away.

I'm a man, and if I leave a relationship it has a good reason. Like I don't love my parter anymore. Or I fall in love to someone else. Hate to end up a relationship, but I must do it if it's necessary.

One way to ensure you have a charming hairstyle is to use a celebrity hairstyle as a reference. Here are some most popular hairs in this new days. When people want short hair, they can try the Emma Watson's beautiful hair. Her short crop haircut is clean, style--changing, and sophisticated. You have to be ready to commit to such a style before wearing it. On the plus side, you won't need to use a round brush for a long, long time. The second is Jennifer Aniston's fresh, mid-length haircut. It's a long lob, that's slightly longer in the front and has almost no layers. This would normally be a very heavy, blunt style, but her haircut has jagged edges that leave the style softened and balanced. Next is the Kim Kardashian's beautiful long locks during a consult at least once a day! She has long, well-defined layers that are always set in a clean wave made by a large curling iron. Also, her hair is perpetually rich in color and very glossy!

Looking lace wigs is a prerogative that many enjoy. Looking great is what all aim for. This of course would be far more applicable to those in the entertainment business. After all, the superstars are given a demi-god like lace front wigs and can they be anything less than perfect?

The thing about online dating is, most of the new dating sites on the Internet now free or paid. Think that just because you have to compete with all of the other well known name dating sites. You have to buy or purchase fake profiles, that is 100% unfair to the members who sign up for their service especially for a paid service. For example I do reviews on dating sites to see which one's are fake. If you have never heard of a dating site especially if it isn't free then if they have millions of members, they don't offer trial service or they need your credit card then it's more than likely fake profiles. On the other hand if they offer a trial service, it's 100% free or they don't have millions of users then you can believe that site is 100% authentic with its members. Remember dating sites that say they have millions chances are you have heard of it before, but if you have not but like the name and what you see but they do not have a lot of members then those are the sites that will have real profiles and the best chances for you to meet someone. The two newest online dating sites I have researched are Faithfulmeeting

Dating Cafe Lounge

Both are 100% Free they are very new so they have real profiles, but the best thing about these two new sites you keep your page position no matter how many people sign up after you. If its a million people who sign up after you and when you signed up you where 2nd, then that's where you will remain until you unregister.

Hey!

I got a new pass-time thing to share. I had registered into www.sgoogles.com opened my profile few days back. Now I have received good response from 2 people in just 8 days. They have asked for a meeting with my family. Dad is glad. How this was omitted in my previous searches, I can't make of. When I joined the site I could see more than 27 profiles with little or more relevance. Slowly, I could view all of them available. The guy asking for a family meet, is bit shy looking but okay. Like hmm introvert type but may be he will get revealed as time goes. Ya! Another thing to share, is it gives you suggestions based on your inputs and preferences. I think I can find one perfect tom here. Hmm let's hope so. It gives unlimited send and receive messages unlike others where you carefully post requests and messages due to limited number of submissions allowed by the site owner. I don't fear of running out of message limitation. I send so many messages as I wish. The blogs I visit are really helpful in this, I wonder if anybody here would search for dating site where you can also connect with people you feel can be your life partners.

Specially I feel this place you can find a good deal of Arab guys wishing to marry American gals. People in America can find grooms from Arabs and also resident Arabs in America. Then you are finished with it. Put your profile, search for your choice and preference and that's it! You get a perfect partner.

When out at a club I see it all the time. Guys that are able to cold approach women, get into interesting conversations and be in the situation where not only is he obviously attracted to her, but equally as important, she is attracted to him. What I see though is the guy failing to escalate. This is really common, I'll explain...

Picking up women is really not rocket science. Men that are learning this stuff think that they have to be able to literally pull rabbits out of hats before they are allowed to have success. Its weird but they think that a pickup has to literally be a 5 star performance for it to go off well. This is just not true! The whole story is right here: <http://daygamedating.com.au/blog/?p=1141>

Need to find a date but you don't feel like going through friends or to the bars? Try meeting someone online.

Meeting people in your area for a date on the Internet is not a difficult task. Choose your favorite dating website or participate in any number of online communities such as Facebook or Google Plus. It is as easy as setting up a profile and posting a picture or two. You can start to meet potential dates quickly.

Before you start setting up meeting dates, it is important to consider safety. You should always meet in a public area until you feel safe with the person. Meeting for a lunch date or coffee is a great option for a .meet and greet.. Never give the person your home address, and only provide your telephone number if you feel comfortable doing so. Trust your gut instinct; if you get a bad feeling about the person, move on to the next person. Lastly, when the meeting is set up, do not allow the person to pick you up or take you home. As chivalrous as it may seem, having your own car or grabbing a taxi will allow you to leave at your will should the meeting take a turn.

Manage your image. Before you can seduce a girl, you must have a good, positive image. Make friends and be charming with every one you come in contact with. Never hesitate to tell one person what you admire about another, as it will eventually reach that person and appear undoubtedly genuine. Never argue (arguing is anti-seduction). No girl can resist a guy whom everyone likes, unless she's the type to rebel against popular opinion just because it's popular opinion (in which case the remainder of the steps will probably wear her down).

Do not hint that other girls like you. Women hold each other's opinions very highly and they get jealous easily. Yes women get jealous easily but their jealousy will cause them to become moody , non-tolerant and distant when around you. If you hint that plenty of women like you, you will be seen as a Playboy and not taken seriously. Women like to feel like they are the only ones in the world and many desired. They prefer to be chased not the chaser. Hinting that other women like you in a major turn-off.

Speak seductively. Never start a conversation focused on work, school, MySpace, family, TV shows, or other everyday things. Never talk about yourself. Talk about exotic vacation spots, mythology, sex (sometimes), history, astrology, dreams, fate, and anything else pleasurable and intangible. Don't express any opinions except for your preference for pleasurable things and for things that she likes. Keep a powerful gaze while talking about these things. The eyes are very important.

Louise Brooks embodied daring flapper style in the 1920s. Her dramatic angled bob with bangs looks as fresh today as it did then. Straight hair works best for a sleek bob like Louise's, but wavy and even curly hair will work for longer, more free-flowing bobs. Plus, a swingy bob will flatter all face shapes.

Veronica Lake

In a time when most movie starlets were sporting perfectly coiffed or pin-curled hairdos, Veronica Lake set the standard for Hollywood glamour with her long, flowing hair. This style works best for thick, wavy hair, but it works on all face shapes. The style is usually parted on the side and can be worn falling seductively over one eye, à la Veronica, for extra drama.

Audrey Hepburn

In both Roman Holiday and Sabrina, Audrey Hepburn drastically cut her long hair into a super-short pixie -- and made her male co-stars weak in the knees. The pixie cut was perfectly suited to Audrey's dramatic features (like her famous swan-like neck), but the style will work on anyone who has an oval, square, or heart-shaped face and straight or wavy hair.

Girls always want that a guy should approach her first. Actually it is always your behavior that counts at the first meeting. One should portray himself as his original personality. If you give her attention, respect, nice and kind response then she will surely give her number and wants to handout with you.

Men leaves the relationship because there are no more love or attraction between him and her partner. But there are still foolish guys who left the better woman for a just a flare of the moment. Good women are for keeps so if you find one why would they still leave?

You don't have to create a clean-cut image to be liked by girls, all you have to do is be yourself no matter what characteristics you have, it won't matter, because you are more likely to find the person who like you for who you are not for what you are.

There are many different reasons why men leave relationships or refuse to settle down with the woman they are with. It's important for women to take a good look at these reasons.This means that after a while he has realized that you are not compatible and have nothing in common. It is extremely important for a man to be sexually satisfied in his home. Have you been too tired or have too many headaches lately? Sometimes the man is roped into a relationship without being actually ready for it. This immaturity and unwillingness to commit that is underlying makes him want to pull out of the most guys settle for some variation of seeing a film and going for a meal. There's nothing particularly wrong with this strategy. It's been tested. It's easy. go where you can feel safe and and see the environment and then date some one A good first date allows for conversation but at the same time takes some of the focus off you so that you're not under pressure to talk incessantly And that's not forgetting that dating should, above all, be fun. And a great way to keep all those plates spinning is by doing some sort of activity together.

Of course, women think too much)) We often try to be pragmatic, that's all our world. The statistics in our mind is always preserved. Besides, our lives became more like men's: we work hard, we lead in companies and politics, we become popular. Testosterone is genders mutual phenomenon now. We meet on the streets, at parties, in the Internet - dating style transformed too. Those are critical issues. The 21st century brought women openness and power, self-estimation. Why that should be bad? Just find a proper approach and you'll never have to lie or flatter! To my mind, divorced women are the strongest, they're flying birds, who know, what they want. Who are not afraid of men anymore! So give a try new, open, trustful relationships! I'm sure, you are to have those very soon!)

It was a discovery for me, that boys have some very private feelings, very deep though... Girls are very expressive, so it's almost can be read in your eyes if you like someone. Boys - nooo) They rarely show their attitude. Dirty intrigants)) But when they do love - they love with all their heart. That means seriousness for me, that's real feeling. However, it's just my own "statistics" and observations, I'm sure, there're many girls who are very serious in relationship.

Hairstyle does matter. It also matters when you're in a relationship because appearance is important and if you don't like your boyfriend's/girlfriend's hair then tell them, NICELY. I wouldn't break up because of hair or something like that, but I do care about it. Bad hairstyles make me cringe. Can you break up because of bad hairstyle?

It really depends on who the man is sometimes he will leave even if he has kids. It matters if he will stay in their lives or leave completely so it can be hard. My father left when I was 13 but he is still comes sees me. It really depends on the man

So if this site suggest ladies to sign up, so perhaps they have a big men's catalog (since the page in Facebook is called Men's Empire) I decided why not? It costs nothing to me, and I really want to talk to somebody. Now I want to thank these guys for the boyfriend! LiveDating.me is the world class dating site for me!

Women sitting alone together in a cafe would not give most observers pause, but in Russia, a group of women alone acts as a reminder of the country's deficiency in marriageable men. Lonely Russian women are commonplace in Moscow and other major Russian cities where men are dramatically outnumbered by the opposite sex. Mothers and daughters alike bemoan the lack of options available to them romantically. Men are not only scarce, but a good one is next to impossible to find.

Men in Russia are prone to alcoholism, unemployment, and abuse. Generations of women in Russia have witnessed the decline of the Russian man. Complaints about men's rudderless existence and poor treatment of women have become a mainstay for gatherings of women, whether at home, at work, or in a social setting. Wherever women gather, the subject of men is not far behind. Some of these women have taken to dressing the part of the jilted lover awaiting rescue, donning dramatic gowns, complete with stiletto heels as they await their knight in shining armor. A knight that few Russian women continue to believe in or have any hope left will actually materialize.

Most women regale past experiences with men with very few pleasant memories. Even women that have been fortunate enough to be involved in a romance, the love quickly sours and is often replaced by resentment, disillusionment, and unhappiness. Russian women wish to be wined and dined and made to feel special. However, even promising men disappoint these notions, causing women to grow hardened as their hope of love and happily-ever-after slowly fades.

The first experience with men a Russian woman remembers is usually her father. Unfortunately, most of these fathers were of no better than the men available for dating at present. Russian women are often raised bearing witness to drunken fathers, heavy drinking, financial insecurities due to lack of motivation to work, and verbal and physical abuse against their mothers. These formative memories create the foundation for a lifelong distrust of men in general, and each subsequent undesirable male encountered is further evidence that the female opinion of Russian men is justified.

To answer the demand for good, decent men, clubs have been emerging across Russia to provide women with the means the experiences they have long craved. One club, Marusia, has taken the concept a step further. Many clubs will have male-based entertainment for women to enjoy. Marusia offers services for women to be in close proximity, if not actual contact, with a desirable man. Women may pay between a few hundred to a couple thousand dollars for the privilege of cuddling with male employees for the experience of closeness and physical connection they cannot find elsewhere.

Starved for affection and love, some patrons of Marusia will request men to spend time with in private rooms. 50% of Russian women are single, with few prospects of a lasting relationship on the horizon. Marusia and clubs like it help these women fill a void, even for a few hours before they resume their search for men that can step into the role of lover, partner, and provider.

Many Russian women consider their future bleak, as the hopes of marriage and companionship become less likely. Some critics believe that these situations are, in some part, created by the women themselves, citing that Russian women are too obsessed with finances and fairy tales. It could be argued in their defenses, that as the lonely fates of these Russian women looms over their heads, cynicism increases and practicality prevail, and the romantic ideals of the past morph into merely desires to be cared for.

Russian women have begun to turn to mail order bride sites to find a husband . Companies like A Foreign Affair have been capitalizing on the demand for marriage minded husbands. Every month they bring groups of men to Russian and the Ukraine. The women attend what A Foreign Affair calls a social, hundreds of young beautiful Russian women attend these events with the hope to get the chances to meet one of 25 or so men that have traveled from the USA or Europe. 23 Year old Olga from Odessa says, "I have given up looking for a man in the Ukraine, I have no problem finding a date, but finding a man I would want to be the father of my children is a completely different thing. I want a man my children can admire and respect. I want a man that will be by friend, my soul mate and my lover"

I went through my boyfriend's phone. It's not the first time. We dated for about a year and then we broke up. We're back together after 3 months and I wanted to check if he has actually changed, like he says he has, or whether he is still flirting and going out for solo dinners and drinks with other women.

There's this one beautiful woman that he works with, exactly his type, that he flirts with over text and that he keeps inviting to do things with him (like go out dancing). She always seems to cancel on him at the last minute, saying that she has to work late so maybe next time.

Anyway, I saw a text about a party that he invited her to last week. She bailed on him. He invited me the day before the party to go with him. I didn't know he had invited her before he invited me. It seems like because she couldn't go, he then invited me.

On the other hand, he tells me he loves me all the time and that he wants to build a life together. He's overall super sweet. He also pursued me after 3 months of being apart. But something feels off. Why can't I trust him?

mike wrote on Tue, 13 March 2012 23:31 The thing about online dating is, most of the new dating sites on the Internet now free or paid. Think that just because you have to compete with all of the other well known name dating sites. You have to buy or purchase fake profiles, that is 100% unfair to the members who sign up for their service especially for a paid service. For example I do reviews on dating sites to see which one's are fake. If you have never heard of a dating site especially if it isn't free then if they have millions of members, they don't offer trial service or they need your credit card then it's more than likely fake profiles. On the other hand if they offer a trial service, it's 100% free or they don't have millions of users then you can believe that site is 100% authentic with its members. Remember dating sites that say they have millions chances are you have heard of it before, but if you have not but like the name and what you see but they do not have a lot of members then those are the sites that will have real profiles and the best chances for you to meet someone. The two newest online dating sites I have researched are FaithFulMeeting Dating Cafe Lounge

Both are 100% Free they are very new so they have real profiles, but the best thing about these two new sites you keep your page position no matter how many people sign up after you. If its a million people who sign up after you and when you signed up you where 2nd, then that's where you will remain until you unregister.

Is there an updated list of other dating sites or dating apps we can try out there?
