Dear whoever,

I need some help on talking to girls. Im sure alot of you are sick of answering this question, but any advice would be really helpful. Im in college, which pretty much means I have a lot of competition and girls almost never project their interest outright to me by eye contact or smiling. It really seems like I would have to engage them and start a conversation for them to even notice me. But without reassurance that shes at least somewhat interested, I get really shy and nervous and quiet. So girls, when you dont look at a guy or smile at him or anything, is there still a chance you could be interested? Whats the best way for ME to show interest before Ive talked to them without being creepy? Or is it really that hopeless for me....oh yeah, and maybe some good tips on flirting? Im god awful at that with girls I dont know unfortunately....

Rummaging through someone else's stuff may seem strange at first, but you'll likely find all sorts of items to laugh about together or something that brings up a special memory,Everyone loves fresh fruit, and there's no better way to get it than straight from the source. Berries are a summer fruit, Split a deep-fried pizza (or whatever they're doing), play some rigged carnival games and enjoy an evening together on the midway.Sometimes you have a hankerin' for something in particular, but other times you just want to try all of the foods.

Picnic is also a good idea for a summer date. Take with you a backpack with bottle of wine in it, 2 wine glasses, some sandwiches to eat and a blanket. The best place for it would be near a lake. Girl will be satisfied, because you have organized everything and added an effort to it.

Social skills are something we are not born with and people seem to develop it as they grow up. But when it comes to the matter of getting along with girls it's a completely different ball game. You see it takes much more than what you already know in order to get girls to like you. There are some super rare secrets which no one will ever share with you. Read on to discover what these super rare secrets are and achieve earth shattering results fast.

Don't scare her- By this I mean that you should not make it obvious to her that you expect an outcome with her and that you are trying to impress her. You should try and act casual as if you are not looking for anything but just to have a good time with someone. You see when you start having fun around her she would automatically be willing to be around you all the time

Never be too interested in her- You should show some interest but not too much. This is a mistake a lot of guys out there make. You see they show a lot of interest too early due to which the girl feels that you are trying to get something from her and she some what feels more superior as compared to you since you are giving her all the importance. So keep it moderate and don't get her on a high horse.

Flirt with her right away- Most guys start the conversation on very boring terms due to which it flows no where. You must start the conversation with a big spark and carry it on from there. You should talk to her as if you have already known her for years and years long. She should feel that strong connection early on if you really want to get her to like you.

Dating is not always as easy as people make it look, so sometimes people need a little help. Don't get discouraged, just because you have been rejected in the past doesn't mean it's going to happen forever. We are here to help you learn how to make any girl like you, and fast!

Act Natural

Too many men think that they need to put on an elaborate show to get a girl. This is not true. Women like a man who acts natural, is honest and has fun. Often times, if you try too hard and you end up pushing the girl away. Stay relaxed and don't act like the macho man that you aren't. She will be able to tell and this will not get you a girl.

Stand your Ground

Acting like you don't need her is the perfect way to get her. A girl always wants what she can't have, so if you act like you don't really need her and that there are plenty of other fish in the sea, she'll be begging you for a date in no time. No, it is not good to act cocky (unless you have a sense of humor that goes with it), but confident is good. Play hard to get, it will turn her on and give her a break from doing the flirting for once

A girl can tell when a man is nervous or unsure about a situation and this is a turn off. Be confident and sure that you can get any girl you want. If you find yourself wanting to learn more, read on to get further information on how to get girls fast.

Wondering how to get a girlfriend easy? Perhaps you've been waiting around looking for the perfect girl but you're not quite sure how to close the deal and get her as your girlfriend. Well, it doesn't have to be as difficult as you may think. Here are a few great tips that you can use to finally get a girlfriend the easy way.

Tip 1 - Remember Each Woman is Different

The first thing you need to realize is that every single woman is going to be different. In many cases you'll find that different things work with different women. You need to be able to notice subtle differences in women so that you can find the best way to get through to them.

Tip 2 - Start Out By Testing the Waters

If you're not very confident, you need to build up that confidence. One way you can do this is by testing out the waters. Use your moves on a few different girls that you meet. Flash a smile, help a woman out, or flirt a bit when you see someone while you're out. This will give you some great practice.

Tip 3 - Keep the Attention of the Girl

Once you begin finding a girl that is showing a bit of interest back in you, if you want to know how to get a girlfriend easy, you need to be able to keep her attention. This could be your next girlfriend. Make sure you make eye contact, listen to the things she says, and smile and make sure you laugh. If you're able to keep her attention, go ahead and ask her out. This may be the girlfriend you have been looking for.

More than likely there are a variety of unattached girls around you that you may not have noticed. Check them out and use these tips. Before you know it you'll have a great girlfriend by your side.

Subject: How to Make Girls Like You

Here are few tips on how to make girls like you

Be Likable

In order to make girls like you, you have to like yourself first. Make yourself likable. This doesn't mean that you have to be good looking, but you have to be looking good. In order to look good you must look clean. Learn to shave, have a good hygiene, and dress well. If you're not comfortable with what you wear, then buy yourself some neat clothes. Go to the mall and look for some clothes that make you feel good. That way you can build more confidence and have more chance to be liked by your date. Take some time and effort to make a good appearance because if you do you'll be more appreciated by your date.

Be Confident

Women love confident men (Even those that are really beautiful.) They find it very sexy even though you're not that good looking. Believe me. You don't have to be handsome to get those girls like you. Just be confident about yourself but don't be overconfident. Avoid being a jerk and don't brag about yourself. One surefire technique in being confident is not to need women so much.

Overcome That Weakness

If you're scared about talking to people (or strangers) then you have to start practicing how to socialize. Practice talking to other strangers. An old man or a fat lady can be easy to start with. Practice makes perfect so learn to practice more to overcome that weakness.

Subject: Tips on How To Text A Girl

Posted by jayden1 on Thu, 26 May 2016 19:08:32 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Texting is a great communication tool. It allows you to keep a conversation going without interrupting your life, and you can even talk to more than one person at once. Learning how to text a girl, though, is a skill that you may not have yet acquired. It requires not only knowing how to be confident in yourself and communicate correctly, but also how to use texting to its maximum advantage.

Be Positive

Never text anything negative. This looks like nothing more than a cry for attention, an easy turn-off for most women. Instead, make sure that you only text girls things that are positive. Compliment them or flirt with them, never share information that makes you look weak or pathetic. Bad news and unpleasant conversations are best saved for personal interaction, while texts are just a good way to keep a girl on the hook. If you are willing to use texting correctly, you can make yourself much more attractive.

Keep it Fun

One of the cardinal sins of texting is attempting to text important information. If you want to text a girl, you have to keep it light. You can keep it fun, flirty or even sexy, but nothing important should ever go in a text. Too many guys try to have real conversations through this medium, which can only end with miscommunication. If you want to learn how to text a girl, you need to remember that it is an additional mode of communication and not a replacement for speaking face to face.

Keep it Short

If you want to keep a girl interested, you need to learn how to keep your texts short. This serves a few purposes, all of which will make you more interesting. First and foremost, it puts most of the work of the conversation on her shoulders. If she wants to keep texting, she will. It also gives you a chance to seem a bit more mysterious, and thus more attractive. The key to learning how to text a girl is not learning how to communicate, but rather how to make sure that she stays interested enough to see you in person.

Subject: Why Women Leave Men They Love
Posted by jayden1 on Fri, 27 May 2016 17:26:51 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

There are various reasons and motives behind a woman's decision of leaving a man. Here are 3 reasons why women leave men they love.

1) They feel unwanted and unloved - there is no secret that women want love and attention more than men. They do not actually want them, but they need them. Women are built differently from men and they are more sensible and emotional. And when their husband or their boyfriend simply does not pay any attention to them, women choose to walk out on their relationship.

2) They feel like sexual objects - these days sex has become more of a physical thing, a thing most men want to simply get it over with, while women still need the foreplay, including the touches and kisses. But when a woman feels like her man is only there for her when he needs sex, she decides to dump him and find a better mate. Support, respect and love are very important in a relationship. And once these are gone, a woman can feel it and often decides to walk out.

3) The man is not sharing enough - I know that there are different types of people, but once you are in love there is nothing more beautiful than showing your loved one how much you care. Unfortunately, not all men understand that. Many times, they choose to keep silent and not show any emotion. Which pretty much ruins the relationship, mostly because a woman needs to feel close to you by sharing.

Subject: Reading Female Body Language

Posted by jayden1 on Sun, 29 May 2016 20:00:12 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

It can be hard for some people to decipher what a woman's body language is trying to tell them. Other people just do not seem to have that problem, and that is why they never have a problem with getting women.

Here are few tips

1. Touching - If you ever notice that a woman is touching your hair and saying how nice it looks, or touching your arm as either of you are speaking. Then this is quite a good indication that they may have an interest in you.
 2. If a woman starts to ask you about any women in your life such as a girlfriend or your wife she may be trying to find out whether the path is clear for her. It's even more obvious if she asks you implicitly and then shows subtle approval upon learning that you're single
 3. If a woman makes eye contact with you it used to be a good sign of their intentions of getting to know you better. Although in today's society it is now just a polite way of talking to people. Don't automatically assume that her interest level in you is high if she looks at you directly while speaking to you.

Subject: How to Keep Her Happy ?

Posted by jayden1 on Mon, 30 May 2016 17:32:24 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

here are few tips to keep your girl happy

1. Don't check out other women, or at least not in front of your girlfriend! I cannot stress to you how incredibly annoying it is to watch your guy gawking at someone else. We know you look at other girls, and we know you think they are hot, but we don't want to see or hear about it from you. Keep that behavior for when you're with your friends. This is a surefire way to turn her sweet mood into sour.
 2. Tell her she is beautiful, not hot. A woman can hear she is hot from just about anyone, even the dude next to her at the red light, and well it gets old. Make her feel special by telling her how beautiful she looks today, or how pretty she is. Believe me, you will get a much more positive reaction then if you were to say, "Baby, you're so hot."
 3. Don't play games. Why do guys feel the need to wait three days after they've gone out with a girl to call her? This is by far the stupidest game ever played. If you like her, then call her, whenever you want. Women hate sitting by the phone wondering if you're going to call. It makes us think you aren't interested, so call her the next day, I promise she won't think you're too clingy.

Subject: Why She Rejected You

Posted by jayden1 on Wed, 01 Jun 2016 02:23:33 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

1.being too proud

Most men are probably guilty of this. While some won't even notice that they're being too proud of themselves, it would still be fitting to have a self check all the time. When you start talking about your social status, your paycheck, your newly purchased gadget, your car, you have a problem. A man like you must recognize the difference between confidence and being too proud and self-centered. Or else, you'll find women turning you down.

2.bad attitude

Bad attitude constitutes to a lot of unpleasant traits. But when you say bad attitude, you're simply a person who is difficult to deal with. You seem to have mood swings all the time especially when things don't go your way. You're very hot-tempered and are easily irritated. If you're a man who struggles with this kind of attitude, now is the time to change it. That is, if you don't want to experience another rejection.

3.being indecisive

Women don't like men who can't decide for themselves and those who simply can't take the lead. Men who are weak don't have a place in any woman's heart. So if you're this kind of man, you have to know that this attitude is an utter turn-off. You have to remember that one of the main reasons why women reject men is because of their inability to make up their minds. So be man enough and take the lead! Be the leader that is innate in you.

Subject: How To Get Back Your Ex Girlfriend

Posted by jayden1 on Thu, 02 Jun 2016 17:48:43 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

1. You should not beg her to come back. Do not chase after her. Agree with the breakup and let her go. You should never ever beg her to come back. Begging destroys attraction and it will only make your ex feels that she had made the right decision to leave you.
2. Get rid of all negative thoughts. After a breakup, it is common for you to feel hurt and negative. However, if you want to get back with your ex girlfriend, you need to purge all the negative thoughts and emotions. Remember: every day, couples get back together regardless of the situation. Your situation is not hopeless.
3. Work on yourself. Instead of chasing your ex girlfriend, work on yourself to become more attractive. Go to the gym or take additional classes to enhance yourself. By working on yourself, you will also meet new people and lead a good social life.
4. Practice gratitude. A breakup is not the end of the world. There are other good things in your life and it is important to appreciate them. Start every morning by counting the important things you still have with you, like career, family, friends, etc. Be grateful for them.

Subject: What Mistakes Men Do When They Approach Women

Posted by jayden1 on Fri, 03 Jun 2016 12:16:18 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Not being groomed

First impressions are lasting. Not being groomed and wearing ill fitted clothes makes you look like a guy who is simply not interested in looking good. Women place a lot of emphasis on appearances and that's the reason why they take so much care to dress well and look good. So take care that you wear well fitted clean clothes and get a shave or trim your facial hair before you approach a woman.

Not smelling nice

Smelling bad is offensive. Similarly dousing yourself in perfume can give the person around you a headache. And both, together, can be quite a put off. Before you head out to meet a woman make sure that you shower well and apply an appropriate amount of cologne. Don't overdo it!

Bragging

Bragging is seen as a very negative quality by women. Women today are as capable as men and also earn big bucks. Don't try to impress her by flashing your car or money as she can go out and get these on her own. What women want is for a person who is genuine and humble. Bragging certainly doesn't fit the bill that way.

Appear too desperate

The other extreme is to appear needy and desperate. A woman likes a man for being just that- a Man! By agreeing to everything that she says or by doing everything that she asks you to do, no matter how exaggerated, you look like a man who will do anything just to be with a woman. Take care of your self esteem and learn to put your foot down when required. You will find more women getting drawn to you this way.

Poor conversation skills

Not being able to manipulate or build a conversation, not letting her speak or not listening to her when she does all make up poor conversation skills. And there can be no greater turn off than a man who does not know how and when to speak and to listen.

1: Physical reactions

Has it ever happened that you saw a girl in a bar, a shopping mall or just about anywhere and you suddenly felt weak in the knees? You want to speak but your mouth gets parched and dry. The world suddenly seems to swirl around and your mind gets blank. Well, this could be love at first sight especially if you continue to think of her days after you first saw her.

2: Instant attraction

Did that woman who just passed you by make you turn around and get another look at her? Did the girl's smile (literal smile or just a gleam in the eyes) make your heart start thumping fast? Do you always frequent the same place just to see her? Well, this could be another sign of love at first sight. Why is that you want to see her only when there could be numerous other pretty girls around? Why not see someone else if not her? That's because you have been smitten by her and nothing or nobody else matters.

3: Physical fascination

Sometimes, the looks of a particular girl attract you or maybe, it is the way she walks. It could also be the cheerful giggle of hers that allure you. Her doe-like eyes could make you want to drown in them. Consider this a symptom of love at first sight. Of course, it can be converted into a relationship only if you pursue it further. But, most love at first sights begin with physical attraction.

4: Your personal concept of love

Not all people have the same idea or thought about love. While one may think that love is wanting to spend time just staring at the object of desire, someone else might think that sleeping with the girl you are attracted to is love. Whatever is your personal image of love, if you want that girl and no other, you could be in the love at first sight fever.

1)Often checks up on you. Checking up on you all the time (phone calls, text messages, emails, surprise visits) means only one thing you're always on her mind. Why else would she bother saying hi? It's not just for the hell of it, believe me. There's just this sudden need to get in touch with someone you're attracted to.

2)Wants to hang-out all the time. She asks you what you're doing tonight, what your plans for the weekend are and how possible it is for the both of you to hangout at her place in about 15 minutes. She's excited being around you and when you are, it lifts her spirits and gets her in a better mood.

3)In a happier mood when you're around. She starts to get all excited and even jumpy after you just arrived and she loves talking to you .you can both go for hours and hours and she can even laugh out loud no matter how corny your jokes are. She wants you and you lone. Forget the jokes. She's also getting all flirty and will tend to send you mixed signals as well.

One thing you should understand that women have an image of an ideal man in their mind, and they are naturally drawn toward guys that fit that archetype. However, even if you're not her "type" you can still connect with a woman by appealing to her emotions. All you need to do is make her feel safe and comfortable when she's with you.

Once you've gotten that far, you will stick in her mind and she'll want to spend more time with you. By now, you're probably wondering how exactly you make this emotional connection and get her to fall for you. read on to find the three 3 key tactics you'll need to use to get any woman you desire Strategy #1 "Be Bold". Be daring and put yourself out there with confidence and character. You must banish all fear of rejection and be ready to approach even the most gorgeous women in the place without hesitation.

Strategy #2 "Be A Peacock". If you have good qualities, don't be afraid to show them off. Even if you don't have anything all that special, that doesn't mean you can't be confident. I'm not suggesting you have to walk around shirtless to show off your abs. Rather, just be confident in yourself and you'll make a great first impression on any girl.

Strategy #3 "Use Fractionation". Once you've started to make a small connection with a woman, you can try using the mesmerizing technique known as fractionation. You probably have never heard of it, but it basically just involves chatting with a woman and hypnotizing her to feel greater attraction for you.

Subject: Why Good Girls Date Bad Boys

A pretty common complaint that men have about love and dating is, that women always seem to fall in love with the bad boys and they seem to completely ignore the good guys. Well, that may be how it seems sometimes, but it's certainly not always the case. There are some things that you can learn from those bad boys, though, and you can end up having the same effect on women.

And no, you don't have to be a bad boy if you don't want to be.

Here's what you can learn from bad boys and why women fall in love with them

1. They constantly challenge a woman.

They are never the boring, I'll do whatever she says and wants kind of guy. They have their own mind, their own life, and they are not afraid to do their own thing. You cannot expect a woman to fall in love with you if you will jump when she says to, and follow her around like a love sick puppy dog. You don't have to be a bad boy to challenge a woman, and she will end up falling for you if you are able to show her that you have your own life and you might challenge her every now and again.

2. They know how to have fun with her and she loves them for it.

One thing that most nice guys have in common is, they end up coming off as being uptight when they are on a date. Women pick up on that, and they can tell when a guy is feeling uptight and like he has to try and be perfect to make her like them. What the bad boys do, is they just know how to have fun with a woman and she will respond with massive attraction and love for them for making her feel that way.

3. They don't shy away from sex.

Bad boy types are not afraid to get sexual with a woman, and they don't second guess themselves and wonder if she will be put off by their behavior. Look, women really are just as into sex as guys are (most of the time), and the bad boy types know how to bring that out of her and that is a good thing. If you want to make a woman fall for you, then you cannot shy away from talk about sex or doing things that are kind of sexual in nature.

Reading a woman's body language sure is an intriguing feat and everybody would love to decode what she really means and finally get to read her mind. However, we all have this belief that women are all the way complicated and the more we try hard o attract them, the more messed up things become. But try to get this it's much easier than it sounds! All you need is to become more sensitive and attuned with her body language to get the real message she's trying to send you. Below are just a few tips on how to read her signs of flirting and finally unravel the five sexy moves she wants you too!

1) Get focused on her eyes. It's one way of knowing some of the things she wants to express but cannot tell you. It's been a trend since the beginning of time - it is a woman's job to send mixed signals and it is up to the men to pursue them or not. Although this has been a bit of frustrating, it never ceases to exist until now.

2) Initiate the first move and see what happens. When she starts to get all teasing and playful with you - meaning she maintains eye contact, grins and giggles at your jokes and all that stuff, go ahead and do the first move on her. She might just be actually dying for you to do so.

3) Listen to what she's saying. When women start to talk too much and louder and have a sudden interest in details, it means it's a green light. She definitely wants you to be more attentive and to give your uttermost focus on her. Women can be such attention-grabbers, I tell you.

4) Observe if she's in a friendly happy mood. When a girl is attracted to you, expect that she's in a more hyper and happier mood when you're around. That simply and obviously shows that she wants to have you around and seeing you definitely lifts up her spirits and makes her feel good.

5) Flirt back at her. Your seduction maneuvers and skills on reading her body language will all be useless if you don't flirt at her. It's like waiting for that ice cream to melt under the sun right under your nose - so why don't go on and get a bite? It's pretty simple sometimes you need to give in to your impulses and just go with the flow.

Are you still hot for more female body language? Get to learn how to read her signs of flirting and find out if she is sending flirting signals..

Plus size singles dating relationships are prone to witness many ups and downs. It is quite interesting to note that only 63% of relationships turn into wonderful marriages. According to experts and love gurus, relationships should have few ingredients in order to become successful. Apart from being happy, satisfied and healthy with one another, your bond must have 8 more ingredients. In this short write up, you will get a comprehensive insight through these artifacts.

1. Enjoy One Another: You must enjoy each other's presence. This is a very simple rule for all plus size singles dating relationships to stand the test of time. You should talk and do interesting things together. Beatles' Ringo Starr stated that he enjoys his wife's presence like none other. He declares this as the secret behind his successful marriage of more than 3 decades old.

Cute Fights: You must be prepared to fight smoothly and skillfully. There is no harm in enjoying few conflicts while dating. This is because two different people are bound to have disappointments, disagreements and difference in opinions. However, most successful couples fight with lots of thought and care. A case study that was conducted by researchers in the University of California declared that "well connected" couples have small, cute fights.

2. Forgiveness: Successful couples who wish to convert their dates into marriage tend to offer and seek forgiveness periodically. The duo may not forget the incident; however, they would move forward in life. Experts consider this as a straightforward path to happiness. There are four different stages in forgiveness:

3. Commitment: Prove your commitment in the relationship. All successful couples would have made promises that last for a lifetime. You must commit fully and this is one of the finest things you could do in any relationship. When you are in for the long haul, your partner will feel safe and secure. Also, try to be as selfless as possible. Most people hunt and depend on such individuals.

4. Confidence: John Gottman, a famous marriage researcher states that successful couples are confident about one another. This is a characteristic trait, which distinguishes dates that end up in marriage from the rest. On the contrary, couples who fail would have a positive remark for every negative statement devoured by their partner.

5. Growing Together: Do you know that successful couples love to grow and learn from each other? This is because their individual growth depends on how involved and supportive each one is. For instance, when one partner wishes to study, the other should support them morally and financially.

6. Date Forever: Last but certainly not the least; you must not stop dating at any time. This is an interesting secret discovered by Jason Miller and Mathew Boggs. The romance should continue for a happily ever after.

All the above are the secrets to have a successful plus size singles dating relationship, I wish plus size singles date with each other mind these tips.

The biggest mistake that men do is not being honest with women. Just tell them everything, if you are insecure, if you are angry with her, if you dont like something or if you are confused. Just be honest with your girl.

Subject: Moscow clubs capitalize on lonely women starved for affection.
Posted by rence on Sat, 15 Oct 2016 07:17:54 GMT

Women sitting alone together in a cafe would not give most observers pause, but in Russia, a group of women alone acts as a reminder of the country's deficiency in marriageable men. Lonely Russian women are commonplace in Moscow and other major Russian cities where men are dramatically outnumbered by the opposite sex. Mothers and daughters alike bemoan the lack of options available to them romantically. Men are not only scarce, but a good one is next to impossible to find.

Men in Russia are prone to alcoholism, unemployment, and abuse. Generations of women in Russia have witnessed the decline of the Russian man. Complaints about men's rudderless existence and poor treatment of women have become a mainstay for gatherings of women, whether at home, at work, or in a social setting. Wherever women gather, the subject of men is not far behind. Some of these women have taken to dressing the part of the jilted lover awaiting rescue, donning dramatic gowns, complete with stiletto heels as they await their knight in shining armor. A knight that few Russian women continue to believe in or have any hope left will actually materialize.

Most women regale past experiences with men with very few pleasant memories. Even women that have been fortunate enough to be involved in a romance, the love quickly sours and is often replaced by resentment, disillusionment, and unhappiness. Russian women wish to be wined and dined and made to feel special. However, even promising men disappoint these notions, causing women to grow hardened as their hope of love and happily-ever-after slowly fades.

The first experience with men a Russian woman remembers is usually her father. Unfortunately, most of these fathers were of no better than the men available for dating at present. Russian women are often raised bearing witness to drunken fathers, heavy drinking, financial insecurities due to lack of motivation to work, and verbal and physical abuse against their mothers. These formative memories create the foundation for a lifelong distrust of men in general, and each subsequent undesirable male encountered is further evidence that the female opinion of Russian men is justified.

To answer the demand for good, decent men, clubs have been emerging across Russia to provide women with the means the experiences they have long craved. One club, Marusia, has taken the concept a step further. Many clubs will have male-based entertainment for women to enjoy. Marusia offers services for women to be in close proximity, if not actual contact, with a desirable man. Women may pay between a few hundred to a couple thousand dollars for the privilege of cuddling with male employees for the experience of closeness and physical connection they cannot find elsewhere.

Starved for affection and love, some patrons of Marusia will request men to spend time with in private rooms. 50% of Russian women are single, with few prospects of a lasting relationship on the horizon. Marusia and clubs like it help these women fill a void, even for a few hours before they resume their search for men that can step into the role of lover, partner, and provider.

Many Russian women consider their future bleak, as the hopes of marriage and companionship become less likely. Some critics believe that these situations are, in some part, created by the women themselves, citing that Russian women are too obsessed with finances and fairy tales. It could be argued in their defenses, that as the lonely fates of these Russian women looms over their heads, cynicism increases and practicality prevail, and the romantic ideals of the past morph into merely desires to be cared for.

Russian women have begun to turn to mail order bride sites to find a husband . Companies like A Foreign Affair have been capitalizing on the demand for marriage minded husbands. Every month they bring groups of men to Russian and the Ukraine. The women attend what A Foreign Affair calls a social, hundreds of young beautiful Russian women attend these events with the hope to get the chances to meet one of 25 or so men that have traveled from the USA or Europe. 23 Year old Olga from Odessa says, "I have given up looking for a man in the Ukraine, I have no problem finding a date, but finding a man I would want to be the father of my children is a completely different thing. I want a man my children can admire and respect. I want a man that will be by friend, my soul mate and my lover"

Subject: Top 7 criteria to recognize a great dating app
Posted by FlirtNOW on Fri, 25 Nov 2016 11:20:12 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

There are plenty of dating apps launching almost every day, with a lot of claims and value propositions. We're very happy about that, because it gives us inspiration to make our product better and adapt new ideas in our special way. BUT a lot of these dating apps are very disappointing in many terms. That's why we want to give you a checklist, how you can recognize a solid dating app:

1. Amount of real users

There are plenty of big dating apps, claiming to have lots of users. But in reality what you almost always find, is that there are user profiles, not real people who really interact on these apps. So if you want to check whether it is a good app, you should start a real conversation with users. If nobody answers you can be sure, that most of these claimed users are either inactive, because they dislike that dating app in certain ways, or, and that is pretty common if you search that on google, these big dating apps are involved in shady schemes to come up with fake user profiles, using bots or employees, to create conversations with new users.

2. Data gathering

A solid dating app won't force you to give all your data and make you uncomfortable by presenting your data if you don't want it to.

So if you want to check whether a new dating app is legit, look whether you have many fields that are required to be filled in, in order to move on. Also check whether you can control which information about you will be shown to whom.

In the best dating apps, you don't need to give your data at all.

3. Your safety & security

Fake profiles are getting better and better to the point you can't recognize whether it's a real person or not. Some of these defrauders want to find out as much information about you, to either sell your photos, or even take out money out of your account. The best way to see through a person is to see that person live. But most of the apps, don't have that feature nowadays, that is why despite their claim to deal with fake profiles, they are profiting of them and won't allow you live video dating, in order not to hurt their business.

So if you want to see whether an app is solid and has nothing to hide, check whether a live video option is integrated.

4. Ability to interfere

A lot of apps though, that are safe in terms of data gathering and live videos, are not handling the problem, that many users behave in a way, that is not suitable for a dating app, claiming to bring people together and solve the problem of finding the right partner.

To find something solid, check whether an app has the following options:

- (1) Possibility to reach an employee of that dating app.
- (2) A reporting button, where you can report fraudulent or inappropriate behavior.
- (3) A possibility to unmatched users, so they can never ever find you again.

5. Solid business model & payment system

Yes, that's right. If you think there are things in life that are free, you probably missed the popular economics quote: "There is nothing as a free lunch". So you probably think, wait, there is Facebook, and it's free, and what about WhatsApp? These platforms have a solid business model of gathering your data and using it at a certain point to give insights to companies about you, for a big amount of money.

You probably think, no problem, but what if a dating app would have the same model. Would you be happy if the app sells your very intimate data to corporations? If not, think it through, how does the app plans to make money. If it's by showing you commercials...it's probably a bit disturbing but legit. If it's by letting you pay for extra services, it's still alright. But if an app gathers data from you and doesn't offer you extra services for money or doesn't show you ads, it's probably your data that is getting defrauded.

6. Fun to use it

If you want to meet someone it's all about your feelings. There is a fun factor behind swiping left and right. But are your feelings involved? Does your heartbeat rise a lot while swiping? Probably not. Now imagine what it would be like to meet a real person? You probably forgot it during these new times of dating apps where people are their profile pictures and their personality is what they wrote about themselves. You probably forgot how to interact in real life and how to recognize who is a faker, a person claiming to be someone else, probably someone he wants to be, but never will. There are nowadays some apps out there with a video profile. Other apps like FlirtNOW on the other hand give you a real experience, as if you met someone in the library or while shopping, in real time. That gives you a lot adrenaline, fun, and it makes you much more confident in general.

7. Anonymity until consent

If you used dating apps before, you probably recognize these: Give me your Whatsapp! Give me your Facebook! Give me your number! Give me your Skype! NO! You don't get anything until I'm not fully comfortable with you!

A great dating app gives you a higher quality interaction, where you don't need all those other communication apps and by that don't need to share your data with a stranger.

1. The one should mind the context of what you're texting to avoid misunderstandings.
 2. Don't sound like a creep and don't use clichéd, pop culture lines they can be funny sometimes, and "funny" is generally "good," but you can't always rely on that when texting.
 3. Make sure everything you text is somehow related to her. Whether you two have been friends for a while, have been on a couple of dates already, or you've just met yesterday, there's always at least one or two things you know about her. Start from those.

Most people struggle to manage their own relationships, leave alone dive advice to others. Relationship advisors, on the other hand, are professionally involved with hundreds (maybe even thousands) of couples and understand the general dynamics and consequences of certain actions. When you ask advice from a friend, it's like asking him or her what should you do with a toothache. Pull the tooth, have it fixed, or will it settle on its own? How would they know? But somehow when it's about relationships, everyone has an advice.

As a dating coach, I talk to many singles seeking to start a new relationship, which they want to make successful. But the reason why their previous relationships or attempts to have one failed is that they keep making the same errors. This is where a relationship advisor can identify common patterns and work with the client on consciously changing their habits in interacting so that the new connection has a chance to succeed.

Hi, everyone,

Just to warn you of a guy out there who is not serious in a relationship and is a player.

- He is a liar
- He drinks alcohol excessively. Without alcohol he goes nuts
- He lies about everything
- He is not serious in the relationship
- Everyone I know said he is a jerk
- All he thinks about is sex
- He only wants to fool around with girls
- He only wants a casual relationship that leads to nothing serious
- If you are looking for some fun, you can go find him and good luck with that. I am sure he doesn't mind giving you his home address.

- He can love you at first sight and then fall out of love immediately once he doesn't get what he wants
- He can give you his home address very quickly like he just want a one night stand
- He can be very nice to you then all of a sudden he can become distance or cold to you
- He works in a financial industry
- He is short and bald
- He is Asian
- He is a Capricorn or Pig in Horoscope or Astrology

So just be careful of this guy if you are seeing him, dating him or meeting up with him.

When you're with her, try to make her feel like she's the only person in the room, pay close attention to what she tells you and try to ask follow-up questions to show you're interested in what she has to say. She'll feel appreciated, plus the eye contact will work double duty, making her feel more bonded with you.

How to make a girl like you?

Just be yourself.

Don't hide, don't pretend.

Plain and simple.

However there are some love experts who are hosting an AMA Event here, at AMAfeed.com

Ask them if you want, but as for my advice, be natural.

Hi

This is my first post.

Just want to share something that looked pretty interesting to me.

Yesterday while I was browsing, I landed at a page called amafeed.com.

A site containing 100s of AMAs relating to dating and love. Some very famous experts were there as well. Thought of asking some questions and the answers I received were truly satisfying.

So if any of you guys wanna check it out google amafeed.
Best of luck with your love life.

More than looks, women want men who are honest and not pretentious. Be yourself and when you're with a lady, keep an eye contact when talking and listen with what she has to say.

Just be yourself. Beauty is in the eye of the beholder so it depends if the woman finds you attractive, then she'll like you. Then add confidence, honesty, and respect.

How to know if the girl likes you?

Depends on what your looking for. Women are hard to understand. If she's someone you like and your constantly together then you can ask her straight.

My friend suggested this foreign dating event which he took part last year. Yes, I am single and I'm looking for my bride, I don't care if she's from Asia or Latin America, what I need is a wife, that's it! While browsing through the site he suggested together with that dating event, I saw hundreds of profiles of women with their photos. Now, I'm confused. Yes, they are beautiful but are these for real? Tell me, are these photos legit or not? Are these women even real and existent?

Nice tips. One can also try these.

1. If you are the good friend then ask her to go out.
 2. Make her feel special.

3. Make her laugh
 4. Be with her in tough situations.

My girlfriend just moved in with me and she's so scared of my dog. I have a beautiful german shepherd girl who gets a bit aggressive when there are other people around. My dog barks a lot whenever she's unfamiliar with people. Since my gf lived far away, we didn't really hang out much in my house and so, this is the first time my gf will be around my dog and vice versa. My gf did mention at a social romance tour we attended that she is scared of dogs but I didn't think much about this because I didn't know the extent of her fear. I didn't know she was THAT scared to the point that she won't go out of the room since she fears that my dog will follow her around the house. She screams when my dog gets too close to her and she almost collapses whenever my dog tries to jump on her (my dog is very playful). How do I make my gf comfortable with my dog? Who should I call for help regarding problems like these? Thanks so much.

According to me some point if we take that and implement in our life then definitely girl impress with you....

- Build your confidence
- Get her laughing
- Make her win you over
- Create an emotional connection
- Build sexual tension
- Be unattached to the outcome
- 7. Find your passion
- 8. Try new things.....

No, It's Not too Late Because age does not matter for love. There are no limits for love because you can fall in love with any age, anytime, everywhere, Love is a beautiful and wonderful feeling. But If you want a serious and healthy relationship then you should match your compatibility, likes, dislikes, nature because this is so important if you did not do this then you can go in the wrong direction means these mistakes broke your relationship.

Many single men and women are finding a life love, life partner soulmate at any age like 30,40,50, etc and 70% of peoples in a good relationship, 40% in divorce, marriage. So if you are seriously finding your love, soulmate depends on you then you can use the online dating sites, senior dating sites because you should not destroy your hopes, feeling. You should try!!!!

I want to say a few things also this is common things because various peoples have got married after those children and after that, unfortunately, both want a divorce. But they also want love in life. So why you can say that it's too late for love. "Age does not matter for love" Millions of peoples are finding love on senior dating sites and maybe someone waiting for you.

No, it's not too late, I am 26 years old and single for the last six months. and the main reason is that because I'm very conscious about my health. I am a complete vegetarian and in looking for a vegetarian partner. I'm searching the internet to find a vegan partner like me. I have just found an article that is specifically written to find a vegetarian partner. The writer describes a lot about vegan dating sites. What do you think the article writer correctly describes the facts about vegan dating sites? If you have any suggestions to find a vegan partner. Any help would be appreciated.

Have you ever felt attracted to a guy without knowing why?
Maybe you've even had feelings for someone you'd rather not be attracted to. Why does this happen?
How can you fall in love even though your conscious mind resists it?
Experiences like these hint at the hidden world driving our feelings of romantic attraction. That hidden world is all about emotional reactions. Emotional reactions we don't consciously control. The truth is, falling in love is not something we choose to do. It's more like getting thirsty. You don't choose to get thirsty. You just notice it. And the stronger your thirst becomes, the harder it gets to ignore.

What if I told you there is a kind of relationship "thirst" all men experience? A kind of thirst that's impossible for him to quench on his own. Would you like to know what he's so thirsty for?

To skip straight to the answer, check out this video that reveals how you can trigger his thirst for something he needs and craves. Plus, I'll show you how to ensure you are the ONLY person he depends on to satisfy this powerful longing. Here's why the man in your life can't tell you what he craves most from his relationship with you...
... He's embarrassed to admit the truth. And that's because admitting to this desire actually moves him farther away from the goal. Here's why...
Okay, picture a woman who feels frustrated that her man never does anything romantic. She finally breaks down and explains her desire to feel romanced and pursued by him. But he acts like she's being unreasonable, demanding she name one thing that's missing from the relationship. So she gives him an example. "It would be nice to get flowers once in a while. Just simple things like that."
The next day, he brings her flowers. But the magic of this gesture is missing. Because it doesn't feel special to receive flowers when you had to ask for them.
It's kind of like that with men, only with a completely different sort of relationship need. You see, men have an insatiable thirst for your admiration.

But he can't ask for it. He can't say, "Julie, I really like you, but here's what's missing in our relationship. You don't admire me enough. You seem to have greater admiration for other men in your life, and that makes it hard for me to picture a future with you."
He can't say that because men believe you have to earn admiration. Asking for it is like trying to become popular by announcing you are a cool person. It doesn't work like that.
He will only feel like your hero when you speak the non-verbal language of admiration. He has to read it between the lines of what you actually say and do.
Now, you might be thinking, "That's not so crazy. I can understand why a man craves admiration."
But if you're thinking that, there's something important I need to tell you.

It's not just that men crave admiration. It's that he can't sustain that "in love" feeling without it.

Nothing kills a man's attraction faster than a relationship where he doesn't feel needed. He wants to see himself as a provider. Someone who is admired because of his ability to provide.
You see, if he doesn't feel needed, he feels like less of a man; emasculated. And that turns off his romantic drive.
And the worst part? You can't just give him admiration. It only works if he believes he has earned your trust, admiration, and respect.
But here's the good news. It's both fun and easy to let him earn your admiration once you know how to set him up for success.
Just find ways to let him be your hero. Now, I should mention there is actually an art to doing that in a way that makes him crazy about you.
But I've seen women wrap a man around her pinky using this simple concept. As a relationship coach, I have seen what works and what doesn't. But what it all comes down to is this...
You need to trigger his hero instinct.

Accomplish that, and you'll be astonished by what happens next. He'll become so loving, so attentive, so much more interested in a committed, long-term relationship, that you will never want things to go back to the way they were.
The hero instinct is a subconscious drive to gravitate toward people who make him feel like a hero. But it's amplified in his romantic relationships.
Some ideas really are life-changing. And for romantic relationships, this is one of them. That's why I've created an online video presentation so you can claim this secret as your own.

Because triggering his hero instinct is one thing. Learning how to do it over and over again requires a few tips and tricks.
The fact is, women don't need someone to rescue them. Especially in this day and age. Yet here's the ironic truth...
Men do still need someone to rescue. Because it's built into their DNA to seek out relationships that allow them to feel like a provider.
This one tiny difference in male and female genetics creates a BIG difference in what attracts men to the opposite sex. He feels drawn to any woman who allows him to step into the role of a hero. Because his instincts naturally cause him to thirst for that social role.
Here's the really cool thing about this. He won't even know why he feels so drawn to you. Which is why you can use this method under the radar. It triggers attraction at a subconscious level.
He'll feel the undeniable tug on his emotions. But if his buddy asks him why he's so crazy about you, he won't be able to put it into words.
There is a hidden world driving our feelings of attraction. No doubt about it. But we now have the power to see one powerful part of that hidden world. And it's something you can actually control.

It's not something only chemists can see, like blood levels of the bonding hormone, oxytocin.

Rather, it's something you can see all around you once you learn to spot it.

It's a pattern of interaction between men and women. Something relationship experts have always known to exist, but something they failed to recognize as the powerful trigger it is. A trigger that drives his thirst for companionship.

How do you use this trigger to build passion and romance?

Well, the easiest way to trigger his hero instinct is to translate your desires into a language that speaks to his natural drive to be a provider. His desire to serve, love, and protect. The desire to be someone's hero.

If that sounds like fun to you, click here to learn more about this relationship enhancement tool. It's something you can learn once, but then use for the rest of your life.

You already have needs and desires. Why not learn how to translate those desires into requests that trigger his hero instinct?

Then relax into the warmth and passion he is only capable of showing once a woman has triggered his hero instinct. A woman who knows exactly how to satisfy his thirst.
