

---

Subject: Your match betrayed you ?

Posted by decdefault on Mon, 22 Jun 2015 03:02:32 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hai guys, have you been betrayed by your couple, tell me how pain is and what you did you do ?

---

---

Subject: Re: Your match betrayed you ?

Posted by Michael Martens on Wed, 15 Jul 2015 18:08:42 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I have been betrayed like 4 years ago. I learned about it by myself. The first red signals for me was her texting with a "friend only". She was meeting with him way too much. I wasn't jealous at the beginning, but I was just feeling that something is wrong. And in my experience - If I feel this way then it's for sure something not good. In a short period of time I could clearly see that she is less interested in me than before. One time when she was in the kitchen making a dinner for us I grabbed her phone to my hand. I have seen a message from "her friend" telling how good last night was and that they should repeat it someday. I placed the phone back in place. As she returned with a dinner I eat it and said to her that it's time for me to get back to home. When I returned home I wrote to her "I wish you the best with your friend. Thanks for everything". Then she called me after this text message and started blaming me how can I read her messages. I didn't even answered her and I put down the phone. It was the end of relationship. Sad but true. I have deleted her phone number, social profiles and everything that could remind me her. After it I started to learn about seduction and reading women intentions. This was the one and only time when I was betrayed.

---