I think the easiest way to get in touch with woman from specific age is to look at some dating site. There you can search by age and also while reading the profiles you will decide who is the most suitable for you to contact.

Hey, go for it. We are young for love at any age and the figures in the passport shouldn't be an obstacle to be happy. Check your compatibility, there are many online tests and astrology, I personally prefer Volikov test. I believe there's no limit. Just make sure you both expect the same thing from this relationship, so noone is heartbroken after all.
